New Faculty Members At M S T C

Most of the students who returned to M.S.T.C. are probably acquainted by now with the new members of our faculty but we are sure we would like to know our faculty better. There are eight new faces on th e staff. We were happy to welcome five new instructors, one office worker and a new nurse and a new dietician.

Dr. Julius Hand Gooden, our recent addition to the Biology Dept., is a native of Pelham, Ga. Before becoming a member of our staff he taught at the Chandler County Training School and Ga. State College in Savannah, Ga. He also served three years in the United States Armed Forces. When asked if he considered M.S.T.C. he replied, "I have found Mary land State Teachers College a challenge to any person who likes to do a competent job. I am certain that this year will mark the beginning of a fruitful friendship."

Dr. Gooden received his B.S. from Ga. State College in 1946, his M.S. from the University of Minnesota in 1947, and his Ph.D. from Ohio State University in 1950.

A member of the professional theater Mr. Samuel C. Jackson is our newest English instructor. He was born in Washington, D.C., but is making New York his home. He entered the armed forces as a second lieutenant and was discharged as a captain. Mr. Jackson then entered the theater in 1947. He played summer stock and has performed on Broadway in various plays. Previously to his becoming a member of our staff he taught Junior and Senior High School in New York from 1947-1950. Mr. Jackson thinks the student body is very interesting and that the faculty are quite cooperative. He says M.S.T.C. has potentialities for cultural influence throughout the State. He holds the B.A. from Howard University and his M.A. from Columbia University.

State Supervisors Meet Here

"We grow and learn together" was the theme of the Annual Conference of Supervisors of Maryland County Colored Schools held here October 1-5.

Mr. Paul E. Huffman, supervisor of Colored Schools, chaired the general session. After the welcome address, delivered by our president, Dr. Wil liam E. Henry each supervisor reported on some aspect or project of special interest carried on successfully by him or his teachers last year and indicated goals, resources or major areas of emphasis for the current year.

Dr. Helen B. Sullivan spoke on the topic, "A Language Arts Program." (Continued on Page 3, Col. 2.)

CHRISTMAS, 1951

In the past we have been inclined to look upon Christmas Day as a day of carefree celebration. Most Christmases, as we know them, have not been the happiest with utter destruction by ruthless, heartless war-mongers whose only thought is the suppression of the free peoples of the world. This year our Christmas season is a period of some of its usual brightness by the giving of light to one of the deadliest enemies of democracy loving peoples the world over.

Many of our friends have been called to distant lands to restore the sunlight of democracy to those unwilling victims of this growing monster. It is our obligation to augment these gallant men's efforts in every possible way. If it be possible for us to help physically then join them spiritually. Be with them in their prayers. Pray for them that they may accomplish what they set out to do. Let us here at Maryland State Teachers College enter the spirit of the freedom and the Christmas not merely as a holiday but as a time to ad minister physical and spiritual help to the defenders of democracy.

Mrs. Manidaki Speaks At Special Chapel

Mrs. Tatiana Anastass Manidaki, representative of World Students Service Fund, a graduate of Wilson Teachers College, Athens, Greece, was a guest speaker at a special chapel held September 28 in the college church.

Mrs. Manidaki spoke about the hardships that students of some foreign countries encounter in the struggle for education. She gave a vivid account of the school systems of those countries. She also enumerated some of the devices that would remedy some of the ills of our world neighbors.

The organization that she represents is being considered as it presents the world over to help the unfortunate people to help themselves.

Barter Theater Scores Triumph

The plaudits of a completely thrilled and fascinated audience rang long and loud through the rafters of Baneker Hall last October 27 as the Barter Theatre of Virginia presented its cast of 'The Merchant of Venice' for its curtain call. For two hours the prosaic familiarity of our library was transferred into the atmosphere of enchanting theatre and "The Bard" once again proved himself immortal to lovers of the drama. The evening was crowned with a remarkable lullaby that will live in memory for all time.

WOODROW ROMOFF As Shylock

be difficulties for adequate stag ing to a lesser equipped group, the players literally brought their stage with them including the last detail of lighting. Acting directing staging lightings each deserves its own individual praise. Each contributed generously to a marvellous illusion.

For Woodrow Romoff Shylock the evening was a personal triumph. Mr. Romoff succeeded in breaking down the very last vestige of restraint from the student body which was at first inclined to be somewhat reserved. His successful interpretation of Shakespeare's famous character elected a response which was overwhelming. Shylock was born, bred and educated in New York. He has been with the Barter Theatre for five years. He has studied for two years at the Neighborhood Playhouse in New York under Martha Graham and Saxford Messenger and has appeared in many network television shows, including CBS prize winning Studio One.

His career was interrupted by a four-year stint as an officer in the tank destroyer units. Later summer Romoff received national recognition for his interpretation of the title role in the world premieres of "Harvey".

M.S.T.C. will long remain indebted to Mrs. Mary Law of the English Department for one of the finest experiences of the year.

The President's Message

To each new student of the college, I extend a sincere welcome. We feel deeply honored to have you as a part of our student body. College life is truly a great stepping stone to a future of success and we hope that you will take advantage of all available opportunities here at the college.

Considerable praise should be given to the upperclassmen for their continued help in directing the institution toward its goals. I feel that the entire student body is fulfilling the rigid academic standards, along with the acquisition of practical training. The atmosphere is one of cooperative citizenship.

The plant is expanding to meet the constant needs. The Practice Cottage of Home Living is now complete and ready to help us render even greater service to our present students and the college. The atmosphere of the student body is greatly enhanced by a high calibre of program and entertainment.

The faculty is well qualified to help you in every way. The institution is continuing to advance and achieve distinction and recognition in the field of teacher education. You have given evidence that you will make good teachers and our country needs you to train and develop our boys and girls into worthy citizens capable of living well rounded lives.

WILLIAM E. HENRY President
WORLD PEACE

There seems to be one question uppermost in every sober-minded individual's mind: what is happening to our hope for world peace? This is, indeed, a very significant and deli cate question, but, a definite a swer before all hope is lost. It has a deep-feel bearing upon many actions of men and the very future of a citi zen especially the students of colleges and universities. At a time when more and more people are attending schools for advanced training than was ever dreamed there is less harmony among men concerning things that would help men together in unity. And so it beffals the present students who will be the leaders tomarrow to analyze this colonial problem and strive to formulate some remedy.

Are we becoming too selfish and uninterested in the problems of the world? Do we put world supremacy above peace? Are we failing to grasp the feeling of brotherly love in our schools and homes? These are only a few of the questions which, when answered, may give us some pattern to go by in order to restore to the world that peace which it so sorely needs to insure its position as a wholesome and fruitful liquid.

The Press Club extends its gratitude to all members for their help in collecting and arranging materials for the Christmas issue of the College Eye. Our special thanks are extended to: Mrs. Van Der Linden and Arthur Dock for acting as photographers. The cooperation of a few others was indeed gratifying to the Eye.

No sadder proof can be given by a man of his own loneliness than disbelief in great men.

BOWIE BRIEFS

An instructor’s job is not the only one that requires students to be students. A recent example of this is Sarah, an instructor in the physics department, who became Mrs. Edward Waters’ Miss Mabel Ham, principal accountant in the physics department. She is now Mrs. Bennett and Margaret Roe, sophomores, for Mrs. Adams.

New cars on the campus are Dr. Thomas Edrick, Dr. Amos Pontac, and Mr. Minter’s Dodge.

The Eyes extends sincere sympathy to Mr. W. E. Henry who lost his wife in our president, and to Miss Jeannette Chase senior account clerk, in the passing of their father.

President and Mrs. Henry and members of the faculty and staff feted the newly weds, a new television set. Mesdames Waters and Bennett, and our transfer students and members of the faculty and modern. The latest addition is a new dormitory B and every body is happy.

That new dormitory is a honey and the reception room on the third floor is ultra modern and was the addition of a new television set. We have had less students and enjoyed by everyone, especially Alfreda Jones’ rendition of The Glory of Love. The piano selections that were played after the music players had to use a faulty piano. There were also some original recitations.

Supervisors—Cont’d

Program For All Pupils at the afternoon session. On Tuesday October 2 the general session was directed by Mr. George M. Crawford, assistant supervisor of curriculum, State Department of Education. A regular session of the 1951 Summer Workshop activities held here was made and Dr. Morris Appelt, professor of Education at Teachers College, who spoke on the topic, A Social Studies Program for Today’s Classroom, and Mr. Robert Pearman and Mr. John E. Ennis and Mr. Glenn Henry were the leaders in the successful performance of the students. The class of 55 has proven itself to the following students who have lost relatives this term.

Seven Workers Added

As a result of the many additions made to the campus, the administration has been forced to secure more workers to in sure efficient management for the school year. The following persons have joined the staff:

Ms. M. Crawford, assistant supervisor of curriculum, State Department of Education, and Mr. R. Pearman, assistant supervisor of special education.

On Wednesday Mr. George M. Crawford spoke on the topic, A Social Studies Program for Today’s Classroom, and Mr. Robert Pearman and Mr. John E. Ennis and Mr. Glenn Henry were the leaders in the successful performance of the students. The class of 55 has proven itself to the following students who have lost relatives this term.

On Thursday October 4 Miss Geneva Faith Ely spoke on the topic, A Social Studies Program for Today’s Classroom, and Mr. Robert Pearman and Mr. John E. Ennis and Mr. Glenn Henry were the leaders in the successful performance of the students. The class of 55 has proven itself to the following students who have lost relatives this term.

Freshmen Talent Night

Soon after the class of 55 started the singing of Our Happiness, opening number on Friday, September 28. In 1951 it appeared that the glee and dramatic club directors were the men to watch for the college talent. Besides the regular students, many parents and friends of the class attended this gala event.

The poetic introduction to the program was made by Yvonne Honea, class poetess.

Some of the outstanding performances were: My Last Day of Sight by Dorothy Collins, You Will Never Walk Alone by The Clementine Williams, the Creative African Dance It Is No Secret, by the Salisbury Choral Society, and the skit, Borrowing Neighbors.

All of the solos and readings were enjoyed by everyone, especially Alfreda Jones’ rendition of The Glory of Love. The piano selections that were played after the music players had to use a faulty piano. There were also some original recitations.

The class of 55 has proven itself to the following students who have lost relatives this term.

The Eyes extends sympathetic to the following students who have lost relatives this term.

Vespers Stimulate Students

The Vespers programs here at State have been very stimulating, inspirational and beneficial to the student body this semester. The faculty and student body have collaborated to bring forth some very interesting discussions. The faculty appealed to the philosophically inclined members of the audience with such topics as, What Is the Age of Persistent Fear by Dr. Amos A Legend of the Black Madonna, by Mrs. Law “The Truth Will Set You Free,” by Mr. Minter “The Keys of the Kingdom of the Mind,” by Mr. Pearson “Personality and what it Means to Teaching” by Miss Gray and “Bread and Freedom,” by Dr. Goodin.

The students have also con tributed toward making these programs enjoyable and educational. The last day of the Vespers programs was Mr. Crawford, a member of the Men’s Choir, a story of an American soldier who gave as much for his country. This story was also originated by Austin Gambus, a sophomore. Other clubs and classes have taken part in these programs.

Gratitude is not only the greatest reward but the par ent of all the others.—Cicero.

Bowie Basketball

The Boys’ Varsity Basketball team is slowly rounding into shape. We are expecting to win a few games during the Eastern Intercollegiate Conference this year. The attitude of “The Bull” thus far is very good. Each member of the eleven men squad has displayed a fine display of team and attitude during practice. If this prevails throughout the basketball season it will prove that the Bulls, who will represent us, have no individual stars, but instead we play as a team. This is the philosophy we are developing our teams around.

Sophomore Happenings

The Sophomore sponsored Pre-Thanksgiving Ball was attended by a larger crowd than anticipated.

Under the leadership and auspices of the decoration committee, headed by Arthur Dock, the gym was turned into a typical country scene with corn stalks, picket fences, turkeys roosting in trees an d smiling moon. The Thanksgiving colors of orange, black and—were used.

The musical portion of the ball was directed by Rudolph Craig who introduced the Mexican Hat Dance with Delores Roberts and her dance partner, Audrey Prout and Joseph Ennis and Geraldine and Doug las Henry leading the group in the routine. Among those tripping the ‘light fantastic’ were Robert Brooks and our class sponsor Miss C. B. Robinson Mr. H. Brown and Miss Thelma Thomas, teacher at Fairmont Heights High School and Mr. R. Pearman and Miss Jackson, teacher at Harriet Tubman School.

Apple cider quenched the thirst of many guests.

Brown said that the rendition of I’ll Be Seeing You by the band, the ball ended with much regret.

Seven Workers Added

As a result of many additions made to the campus, the administration has been forced to secure more workers to in sure the efficient management for the school year. The following persons have joined the staff:

Miss Mary B. Herbert, native of Lin coln, Maryland, a house maid in Harriet Tubman Hall; Mrs. Lucille Hall, resident of Laurel Maryland an assistant cook for Mrs. Alice Tingle native of Baltimore, Maryland, a house maid in the new dormitory Thomas Batton of Baltimore and William Batton of Pasadena, Maryland, foremen of the Wide Language Arts Program, Mr. Thomas A. Edwards, men ber of the staff at Temple University, a leading Clinic, was com sultant.

The intramural program is off with a bang. Tryouts again, particularly with the men, are announced by the captains in the run for home stretch.

During the season of football, we will have five players on place, five wins and no losses. The captain of the Captains, by law can smoke a twenty five but that is not the reason we are going back on his feet for the remainder of the year as a result of his keen coaching. Looking at him the other day saying this was the captain of the Mighty Captains who has at tempted to give up, because he can’t be crowned "Touchdown King" for the year of 51 at the Touchdown Fete this year. He has now decided that his team will give the opposite teams a rough run for the home stretch with only three wins and no losses.

This season of football has been one of delight thanks to the leadership of Coach of Mother Nature. It seems that with these two outstanding con ditions for a delightful football season, the teams would feel rather peppie. O’ no, not the Little Captains, who have two out of three books and threw it at or to—Every game this season he has used two or three to ward his appetizer. His many friends in the State College are in third place and also in the run for home stretch.

With only four more terrific games left, the little football team is to play in "The Tiger Stadium," the officials of the intramural program are waiting for the final decision in the play off.

This decision of the intramural program of the year of 51 52 has been a division well enjoyed by the upright, no playing men. The Maryland State Teachers College insists that the basketball season now approaching will be a great one and that the students would feel rather good sportsmanship here at State.

The girls have four teams, Fredties, Falcons, Radcliffis and Rockets, captained by Georgette Watts, Gladys Blair, Miss Brooks and Miss Washington. They have com pletely the sport of volleyball Taking first place the Rogers, and second place were the Radcliffis. Let’s not forget there are other teams to play and they will be well worthy.

Freshmen Impressions

The following students were chosen at random and asked to give their impression of M.S.T.C.

CLEMENTINE WILLIAMS Salisbury High School Salisbury, Maryland M.S.T.C. a well rounded Teachers College for the curriculum is good but the students are not ready for the properly for the designated fields of teaching. There is also a pleasant atmosphere for the students and faculty members here.

TOUCH ONE TO PICK
Demonstration School News

The Demonstration School has three teachers—Miss Matthews, with the first and second grades; Mrs. Craig head teacher of the third and fourth grades; and Miss Gray with the fifth and sixth grades. The new supervisor for the school is Mr. Herman Bowers.

Inspector Mansfield from the Safety Patrol Department of Washington sponsored the Economy Star newspaper, as well as a table for the school. The group has presented a safety play and sponsored a Hal lowen Earty. The school unit of work in Social Studies stressed the importance of milk.

The third and fourth grades are also working on a health and safety unit. The fourth grade worked on the purposes of a city and the different kinds of early transportation. Their pictures show the work of the unit, as well as interesting cuttings. All Animals were presented in the assembly on November 6.

Orange, New Jersey Mr. Brown is a veteran of World War II. While in the army he served as an advisor to the armed forces in Bavaria and Oberammergen. Germany. He was in the armed forces four years and three months. Two years of overseas duty.

On coming to M.S.T.C. Mr. Brown has been greatly impressed by the students and the atmosphere. He feels that there is a great deal of interest and friendship among the faculty and students.

Aside from Mr. Brown’s work here on the campus, he finds time to engage in other activities. He is a lecturer and discussion leader for the American Association of Adult Education for the Southern District. He is also a member of the Beta Kappa, the Hellenic Foundation, and the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity.

He has received his B.S. from Morehouse State College, M.A. from the University of Michigan.

Ronald A. Pearman, of Bowie, Maryland, is our new physical education instructor. He received his B.S. in 1942 M.A. in 1949 and C.A.G.S. in 1951 from Boston University. He has also studied at Springfield College, University of Detroit, University of Minnesota, and the U.S. Athletic School in Chalons, France. He is now a candidate for his Ed.D. Most

VINNETTE JONES

Vinnette Jones, sophomore, took part in a State in the Maryland Tuberculous Es say Contest of 1951. She wrote on the subject, Recent Trends in Control of Tuberculosis in Maryland. Her prize was $10.

Of Mr. Pearman’s experiences have been based around school and travel. During World War II he lived in Europe three years. He taught in the States and taught in Michigan a year before that. Later in Michigan, he taught in the Elementary School. During the 1949-50 school year he taught in Tuskegee, Alabama. Mr. Pearman is completely happy at M.S.T.C.

Our new Home Economics instructor is Mrs. Emily Mann Johnson, a resident of Annapolis, Md. She taught two years at Bates High School there and managed a drug store for three and one-half years before coming to Bowie. She holds her B.S. from Hampton Institute. She likes M.S.T.C. very much.

The person responsible for our recent menus is Miss Lucy Whitlow from Atlanta, Ga. Miss Whitlow is a graduate from Tuskegee Institute, Ala. where she received her B.S. and a M.L.H. University where she received her M.A. She is also a graduate of Freedmen’s Hospital School of Dietetics, Washington, D.C. She has attended Beth Israel School of Dietetics, Boston, Mass., and is a graduate in Dietetics in New Orleans, La. Miss Whitlow worked as an Administrative Dietitian for two years for the Red Cross, Louis ville, Ky. She likes her work very much and is happy to be with us.

From Washington, N. C., comes our new nurse Miss Wilhelmina Rose Whitley. She holds her R.N. at the School of Nursing, Winston-Salem, N. C. She is a graduate of Kate Belling Reynolds Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, Winston-Barnett, N.C. In 1931 Miss Whitley acted as nurse in charge and supervised at Veterans Administration Hospital in Oten, N.C. She thinks M.S.T.C. has a homey atmosphere.

Summer Workshop A Success

Under the direction of Mr. Paul Huffman, State Superintendent of Colored Schools, and Mr. George Crawford, Assistant Superintendent of Education, the summer workshop of 951 proved to be quite successful. The total enrollment was 184. There were 76 students participating in the elementary workshop and 56 participating in the junior high division.

The elementary workshop developed a tentative program of social studies for the elementary school teachers. The consultant was Dr. Morris Appel of Brooklyn College and New York University.

The junior high workshop developed units on the core program for use in the junior high schools throughout the State. The consultants in this division were Carol Kahler of Endicott, New York, and Mr. assistant, Mr. Del Pahl who attended New York University anthropology.

At various times during the summer session, speakers from the State Department of Education came to give lectures and demonstrations to the teachers.

The workshop was sponsored by the State Department of Education. Counseling, cooperation with M.S.T.C.

Freshman Facts

State s freshmen have entered wholeheartedly into their activities. On the first semester agenda are the following December 7 Yuletide Party, November 9 eight girls serving is hosts for the reception honoring the Barrter Players, and others in the same capacity. For the banquet, Grace Edmundson and Richard Solbert attend the Annual Spring Conference of the East Coast Professional Education of Teachers appearance on assembly.

From the first semester, students in the junior high school. The first semester of the junior high school at Fairmont Heights High School and on November 12 the twenty- elementary majors began their practice teaching at Fairmont Heights High School and on November 12 the twenty- elementary majors began their practice teaching at Highland Park, Fairmont Heights Elementary and Bowie, all under the supervision of Mr. Herman Brown.

The first sponsored social entertainment was a Sadie Hawkins Dance, the one affair where the young men got a lion’s share of dancing exercise.

With the oversupply of women of the campus the young men had to dance constantly. All in all the affair was a success.

This being our last year at State, we hope to make it the biggest and best of our college days.

ALUMNI HAPPENINGS

Uncle Sam is playing havoc with the class of ’51. Bernard Plummer Earl Smith, Samuel Edes, John Hamlett, Kenneth Kennedy Vernon Wilson, Gerald Griffin, and Edward Houston have already donned their uniforms.

We don’t believe that the teaching profession is profitable, ask Maxine Caggett. This fortunate lady bought a 51 Chevrolet after her first pay.

Eugene Johnson, class of 50 is smitten with army life. To make it look worse.

Eugene Turner class of 50 said the magic words ‘I do’ on October 13 Howard Brooks, also of the class of 50 did the same on November 10.

Royal Thomas and George Harper are seeking their master’s degrees at Penn. and N.Y.U, respectively.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. McGowan on the arrival of a little daughter. Mrs. Ber thena McGowan is a 51 graduate.

Pvt. Eugene Johnson, 50, and Bernard Plummer, 51. Pvt. Samuel Edes 51 and Cpl. Melvin Toye 51 and William Gris, 49 have all had to flash their uniforms on the campus.

Francis Gates, class of 49, has been promoted to a principalship in Carroll county. He is anticipating marriage, come December 22nd, to Ada Baker, 52.

Alice Waters, class of 51 decided that she would like someone to discuss her school problems with in the evening. She became a mistress the day after graduation.

E. R. Moton High School, Easton, Maryland.

My impression of Bowie has been changed by both my accept ance here and the environment that I enjoyed here, upon my arrival. At first I thought it was a small school that had nothing to offer. I have found this, so far to be untrue.
