It's Dr. Wiseman Now

Dr. Joseph Alexander Wiseman has returned to his post as instructor in education after a year's leave of absence. He earned his doctorate in Human Development Education from the University of Maryland last June.

Dr. Wiseman could qualify for the title "Mr. Bowie," for he has been associated with the institution since 1920. After attending the Union Chapel public schools in his native McKendree, Anne Arundel County, he completed his high school education at the then Bowie Normal and Industrial School in 1927 and was graduated from the Normal School in 1929. He served as head teacher and critic in the Bowie Demonstration School from 1929 to 1937.

After a year as instructor in education (1937-38) at the Bowie Normal School, Dr. Wiseman accepted the position of supervisor of schools in Kent County for three years, returning to his alma mater to teach in the teachers' college, as instructor in education and social science. In all, he had obtained his B.S. degree from Hamp- ton Institute and his M.A. degree from New York University.

Dr. Wiseman is active in professional and civic organizations. He is secretary-treasurer of the Division of Teacher Education, Maryland State Teachers Association; secretary of the Anne Arundel County Board of the YMCA; secretary of Beta Epsilon chapter, Phi Delta Kappa fraternity; and organ- izer for the Saint Augustine Catholic Church choir. He is married to the former Rose Shockley, Bowie '37. They are parents of a son, Adrian.

Welcome, Dr. Parker

Dr. Marjorie H. Parker is the new director of student teachers. Born in Winton, N.C., Dr. Parker received her M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Chicago. Now a resident of Washington, D.C., she was formerly associate professor of education at the District of Columbia Teachers College.

Dr. Parker's many capabilities have already been revealed in her brief stay here. She attended the Board of Control meeting of the Eastern States Association of Professional Schools for Teachers in New York as the faculty member representing Maryland. In October, she was a member of the Panel on Education at the Governor's Conference on Children and Youth. She also participated in the recent meeting of the Council on Cooperation in Teacher Education in Maryland.

She is a member of Pi Lambda Theta (National Honor Society for Women in Education), the National Education Association, and the Maryland State Teachers Association.

Dr. Cecil Lloyd Spellman, a native of Elizabeth City, North Carolina, is the new Dean of Instruction. He comes to us with a broad background of training and a wide variety of experiences.

After completing high school, Dr. Spellman attended Hampton Institute. He transferred to A. and T. College at Greensboro, North Carolina where he received his B.S. degree. He later received his M.S. degree from Oregon State College and his Ph.D. from Cornell University. He also attended Iowa State College and Columbia University.

Dr. Spellman has taught in the Berry O'Keely Training School in Method, North Carolina: A. and T. College, Florida A. & M. College, Columbia University, and State A. and M. College in Orangeburg, South Carolina. He has held the office of Vice President and Dean of Bishop College. Because of his training and ex- perience, he was able to hold the Deanship of four major divisions of Florida A. and M. College, namely: Agriculture, Arts and Sciences, Education and Graduate Study. He has also taught at Fort Valley State College, Alabama State College, Alabama A. and M. College, and North Carolina College at Durham.

Through the Sloan Foundation Project in Economics, Dr. Spellman made two personal contributions. He edited a book

Message From President Henry

BE A TEACHER

You have come here to prepare to become a teacher. In order to do this we must train for humanity, and training in the three "Rs" must be given in a manner calculated to serve the ends of that humanity. For all the knowledge in the world is worse than useless if it is not humanly understood and humanly used. An intelligence that is not humane is the most dangerous thing in the world.

Therefore, every teacher should show an increasing willingness to cooperate with all other groups of people in a world that desperately needs faith and understanding. This increasing achievement of good democratic human relations among teachers has a double significance since what they practice, they inevitably teach.

For many years, the dominant philosophy of our Western World, in spite of Christian teaching to the contrary, has been that survival depends on conflict, competition, and war. That philosophy has brought us near the brink of disaster. However, great teachers have proclaimed that survival and growth depend not on fighting each other, but on working together.

Therefore, education without humanity is the most dan- gerous thing in the world. Education in love, human understanding, and cooperation is the greatest hope of the world.

"God give us the fortitude to endure the things which cannot be changed, and the courage to change the things which should be changed, and the wisdom to know one from the other."—Oliver Hart.

Pioneers Here December 13

The Maryland Society of Educational Pioneers is holding its annual Christmas dinner here on Sunday, December 13, to be followed by a program in McKeldin gymnasium.

As is the custom, the Pioneers, a group composed of high school principals, will dine with Bowie students from their respective schools.

Following a program of timely discussions, there will be a group singing of Christmas carols.

The primary purpose of this organization is to promote interest in educational research and to promote, share and dis- seminate the results of this educational research. Secondly, the Pioneers attempt to encourage, stimulate and develop leadership among high school students.

Officers of the Educational Pioneers are Charles W. Caldwell, Chairman; Percy Williams, Vice Chairman; Ulysses S. Young, Secretary; and Louis Monk, Editor-in-Chief.

There are 35 active members in this organization including our President, Dr. William E. Henry; Mr. Robert D. Brown and Mr. Ulysses S. Young, two of our faculty members.

New Library In Use

What a difference a new, modern library makes on a col- lege campus! Hopes of returning students and faculty were fulfilled when they learned the building would be ready for oc- cupancy soon after the opening of school. Now that it is being used, it is rapidly becoming the campus center of interest, as it should be.

The air-conditioned structure has one main floor and a basement. The lobby has been a focal point for attractive dis- plays in its glass wall cabinets. There have been exhibitions of recently acquired books; pictures, maps, books, a.m.m. souvenirs. It has been brought back by Miss Edna Prout, assistant librarian, when she toured Europe a year ago.

The main floor is located:

- the reading and browsing area, the charging desk, librarian's office, a cataloguing and workroom, a curriculum laboratory with hexagonal tables, books on open shelving, and staff quarters.

The basement floor consists of an audio-visual center, a list- ening room, receiving rooms, general storage areas, janitor's quarters, and service bays.

The lounge and other furniture are the handiwork of the students, the tile flooring, and the individual study carrels. They are in the construction phase, the students have sanded and grinded the cement which makes this center a place of beauty.

On Being Professional

We are preparing to become the future teachers of America and over four years of training, there should develop within each of us a feeling of obligation to participate actively in our professional organization. Will the member of the student body be a member of the National Education Association? If you have not joined, you are displaying a disinterested in the profession that may exist throughout your career.

To Cut Or Not To Cut

We have been in college over a period of one, two or three years, and within this time a certain amount of maturity should have developed. The courses we take or are taking have been chosen as those which will best prepare us for the teaching profession. If we cannot cut, how can we expect any damage to us to come out later when we are teaching and do not display effective teaching abilities. If an emergency calls for cutting a class, then cut it, but be sure there is an emergency. If Mr. Matthews will not stain the furniture now, how long will this condition last? The continued beauty of our library depends on every individual who uses it.

Your Library

Numerous rules and regulations have been placed on the student body in the library. You may rebel, but the existence of these laws has come about as a result of carelessness or dishonesty brought about by the group. Our library is a masterpiece of beauty, but how long will it remain so if we place our coats, umbrellas and books in the most convenient place and not in the assigned area? There is no penalty for not using the book, only a loss of beauty. But in each child a possibility, if you can keep your head when 40 children

Fifteen Added to Faculty

The Administration has announced fifteen additions to the college faculty.

Mrs. Sheila Ama Moats, a native of Mandalay, Burma, is the new science instructor. She received her B. S. degree from Union Rangpur in Burma, her M. S. from the University of Calcutta and is a candidate for her Ph. D. at the Catholic University in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Jessie Lee Manshock, instructor in English, holds a B. A. degree from the University of Chicago and an M. S. degree in home making from Tuskegee Institute in Alabama and has served for eight years as a demonstrator in Southern Maryland under the sponsorship of the University of Maryland.

Mr. William Thomas Rowes, an instructor of Bahamian English, has recently been elected as an instructor. Completing his high school in Baltimore County, Maryland, Mr. Rowes holds a B. S. degree in home making from the University of Minnesota, where he received his B. A. and M. F. A. degrees.

Added to the music department is Mrs. Charles Corbin. She received her B. S. in music from Bowie State University in Washington and her M. A. from Boston University. Miss Corbin has a taught music at Fayetteville Teachers College, North Carolina for a time at the Howard University School of Religion.

BATS Perform In January

The Bowie Arts Theatre, better known to students as the "BATS," has begun its play program for the new term. The Dramatic Club is rehearsing for a play entitled, "Rebel Without a Cause," famed as an exciting, tragically human story of a youthful delinquent and the sources of his problems. A January date will be announced later.

The BATS explain: "This organization gives all students that are particularly interested in the Little Theatre movement and dramatic expression the opportunity to develop and enrich their talents.

Six Join Staff

Bowie welcomes six new members to the administrative and business staffs of the college.

Mr. Claude L. Franklin, Jr., our new social director, is a native of Tarrytown, New York. He holds a B. S. degree from Union College in Richmond, Virginia. Another new member is Miss Elma L. Johnson whose home is in Washington, D. C. Miss Johnson received her B. A. degree from Howard University and did her graduate work in library science at the Catholic University. Prior to her service here, Miss Johnson worked as a librarian at Trinity College in Washington.

Miss Robert Dorey, a graduate of the Douglass High School in Baltimore and holding a B. S. degree in health and physical education from Morgan State College, Miss Turner has varied experience in the areas of recreation, and social welfare.

Miss Dolores Queen, a Washington native, has been named secretary. She is a June, 1959, graduate from Cardozo High School.

Another secretary is Miss Anne Pinnick, originally from Rockport. Miss Pinnick received her B. S. degree from Bennett College in Greensboro, N.C.

Mr. Charlie Younger Boyd, a native of the State of North Carolina, holds a B. S. degree in business administration from North Carolina State College in Greensboro, in 1959.

From Mothers to Teachers

If you can keep your head when 40 children

And in each mind implant a purpose true;

If you can quiet each to 40 mothers

That hers it of them all-, the same fast failing;

You can keep all happy and contented: They may often drive his parents wild;

If you can find it in your heart to love,

Attractive or unattractive, they may be;

If you can not see what is on the surface

But feel each child a possibiliti

If you can wake in each a thirst for knowledge

Then satisfy that thirst from day to day;

If you can wake within each heart an interest;

So that his lessons seem not just devoid of meaning;

If you can meet these never-ending problems

As each may have done o'r e'er;

Then you've won our gratitude.

Our unstinted support is yours for evermore.

The Art Club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Rowes, is entertaining at a tea and art exhibit on December 15, in the Lower Library.
Candid Shots Taken On Freshman Talent Night

Bowie Briefs

Well prepared and admirably poised, the freshman class revealed their talents October 30 before an enthusiastic audience. The performance, named "The U.S.A. in the Freshman Week," was handled remarkably well. The freshmen received high praise from their older college contemporaries. Most of the audience was composed of upperclassmen. Roxie Purnell and Tyronne Hoes represented Bowie's Chapter of the National Education Association, with four delegates attending the convention.

Dr. Henry Crowns Queen Nilah

An eager audience witnessed the crowning of Sophomore Nilah Cain, Miss MSTC, November 20, by President W. E. Henry. This affair, sponsored by Mrs. Head and the Junior Senate, is the most cherished of the events held at the college.

Candace MasKing, vice president, Charlotte Jeffers, secretary, Richard Milbourne, treasurer, and Leon Carr, program chairman, formed a creative dance. Ethel Scion and four other students provided the music for the show.

Two of the junior students who performed were: Lavata Wilkerson, Joyce Hamilton, and Tyrone Hoes.

Mr. Clyde Bessicks and his band provided the music for the evening. The ball began with a dance by Queen Nilah, and her escort, Candace MasKing, president of the sophomore class.

The Colleges offered the traditional song, "Queen of My Heart" as a dedication to the queen.

The Seventh Annual Leadership Conference of the Maryland Association of Future Teachers of America was held at Towson State Teachers College on October 16 and 17. Representatives from state colleges and high schools met to discuss goals in leadership ability, to make suggestions for mechanics of leadership through group discussions, and to exchange ideas as to how college chapters of N.E.A. might be improved.

Freshmen Sparkle in Talent Show

By James Feenster

The class of 1963 presented a talent show entitled "Around the U.S.A. Freshman Week" on Friday, October 30, in the McKeldin Gymnasium.

A highlight in the show was Evelyn M. Holmes, Shirley Hamilton, and Wanda Wicks, who performed a dance. The lighting effects were simple but very expressive. The pupils were all well prepared for their parts, and the program was a success.

Scenery Simple But Expressive

All of the scenery used was the work of the students, and the colors used were the work of Mrs. William Henry, the first lady of the campus.

The college provided the music for the show. Shirley Banks gave a message from the Oct. 30th issue of the "Eye" and the "EYE" was presented.

Dr. Lilly Purnell and Tyronne Hoes of the junior class represented Bowie's chapter in the workshops. "Programming for Effective Organizations and Promoting Membership" were the topics discussed.

Bowie N.E.A. officers are: Roxie Purnell, president; Candace MasKing, vice president; Charlotte Jeffers, secretary; Richard Milbourne, treasurer; and Leon Carr, program chairman.

Fifty '59 Grads Are Teaching

Of the 51 June graduates, 38 are teaching in Maryland, two are teaching in Washington, D.C., one is teaching in Cleveland, Ohio, two are in the Army and seven are not employed.

Those teaching are: Prince George County, June P. Barker, Alice Shirley; Doris V. Anderson, Anna C. Handy, Queen Young, Denwood Dalton.

St. Mary's County, Melvin was elected to planning in keeping with the budget and to plan work activities that will strengthen students to become better organized homemakers for tomorrow... The student body unanimously elected Melvin Jenigen as President of the student body for the school term '59-'60. Melvin was installed in office on October 30... The doors of the beautifully decorated gym were opened wide for the celebration of the Halloween Festival. Prizes were awarded to the best dressed couple: Melvin Jenigen, who was attired in cowboy style, and Ann Parker, whose antique dress represented a pheasant.

FLASH

Word has just been received that the Baltimore Chapter of the BOWIE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION has sent to President Henry $82.50 for the purchase of five additional college choir gowns. THANKS!

President Henry placing crown on Nilah Cain, sophomore, Miss MSTC for 1959-60.
Basketball Prospects Good

Swish! Thud! Swish! Thud! These sounds spell out the fact that the basketball season has colossally begun again. Our Bowie Bulldogs have been practicing for three weeks and their chances for victory are very good. The team has a twenty game schedule beginning with Morgan State College on December 2.

Returning from last year's championship teams are Richard Milbourne, the Maryland area's leading scorer for 1958-1959, and James Howard, Michael Ronald Hooper. Coach Perry, junior and Beatrice Proctor, sophomore, are runners up at this point.

Coaches selected.

On Saturday, September 26, Bowie's first invitational tournament was held at Cheyney for a meet. There were five teams, Cheyney State Teachers College, 15; Bowie, 19; Morgan, 21; Baltimore City, 22; and Morgan College, 26. Bowie defeated Morgan, 72.

The first game for the men was a thriller, played against the Mighty Morgan State College Bears in Baltimore. December 2. A nip and tuck battle all the way, the win went to Morgan 49, Bowie 46.

The U.S. Army Field Band of Washington D.C., opened the 1958-1959 concert season with its 50th annual performance November 10. Directed by Major Chester E. Whiting, the group opened up two hours' time, of being one of the most proficient and distinctive musical organizations now appearing before the public.

A stirring rendition of "The Street Where I Live," "Bourbon Street Parade," and "Stars and Stripes Forever" was an all-American assortment of music and a spirited performance by the band. The program also included "The Soldier's Chorus" and "On the Boulevard." A happy combination of musical entertainment that will be remembered for a long time.

Methodology Becomes Reality

In early September, eight junior high school majors returned to State College to begin their practice teaching.

For three long years, they had studied and worked, and put all they bad against their methods. Each student is striving to do his best work in order to prepare himself for the profession of teaching, and to carry out the all-important task of building tomorrow's citizens.
