New Laboratory School Named For Charlotte B. Robinson

There was rejoicing in the assembly on March 2, when President Henry announced that after receiving suggestions from the faculty, alumni, and students, the new laboratory school would be named the Charlotte B. Robinson Laboratory School.

No name could be more appropriate, for, as in our Alma Mater, composed by the late beloved music teacher, "There's a place in our memory that never grows cold." There was a definite place in the memories of faculty members, alumni, and students for our dear friend and teacher, who has now immortalized the words of Alma Mater.

For those who knew Miss Robinson, we need not describe her, for to describe her is beyond the words of one's pen. Yet there are those who did not know her, but they have heard the old, old story related by those of us who were guided by her.

The class of '60 dedicated their yearbook to her, expressing their love and appreciation for her. Just as they felt, we too feel, that she was an "inspiration, and guiding friend to

Nigerian Speaks

Maz Amaka Ahagoutu, a native of western Nigeria, was the speaker at the January 7 assembly. He discussed the political and social aspects of his native country.

Following a question and answer period, Mr. Ahagoutu showed a film entitled, Giant in the Sun.

On a seven year scholarship, the speaker is majoring in medicine at Howard University. He intends to practice in his native land.

Annual High School Conference Set

The Pioneers announced that their Annual High School Conference will be held on Sunday, April 30, here at the college. Registration will be at 10:00 A.M. The guest speaker will be announced.

The theme is "New Frontiers In Human Rights." The Pioneers expect seven students from each high school in Maryland.

Questions to be discussed by students are: What bearing does race, creed, or color have upon human rights? What are the students' responsibilities in fostering these new frontiers in human rights? What does population explosion present in the new frontier of human rights? What is the role of education in the pursuit of the preservation of human rights? What is the dominant role of the government in protecting the rights of individuals in a democracy? and, What are the responsibilities of the different religions and scientific groups in advancing the new frontiers of human rights?

The new assistant librarian came to America to study at Syracuse University in New York where he received both the B.S. and M.A. degrees in Library Science.

Dr. Lyu is the recipient of two Ph.D. degrees: one from Pioneer, Illinois, and the other from Duke University. He also every student at Bowie State," and forever will be.

Dr. Henry says that he feels her presence whenever the Glee Club performs or whenever the elementary pupils of the laboratory school sing.

Only to have seen the student body on that second day of March could you have felt the joy and beauty behind this great decision. Big-eyed, on the edge of seats, and as quiet as a mouse, the student body broke into roaring applause as the building's name was announced. Some shed tears of joy, because Bowie for many is a synonym for Miss Charlotte B. Robinson. Her love for and dedication to this institution, its students, its faculty, its laboratory school, and its children can never be forgotten. As the Alma Mater is sung we see Miss C. B. Robinson stepping on before with "the flame of faith and torch of truth to guide the steps of youth."

The Real Significance Of The Easter Story

"And late in the evening, they nailed Him to the cross and finally in much pain and agony, He died."

These touching words bring to mind the Easter Story. It is not a story centered around a date, a month, or a season, but a story that should dwell with us throughout the year. It is a story of self-sacrifice.

Regardless of our religious convictions, it is not saying too much to opine that the story of Jesus and his self-denial and sacrifice should be a pattern used by us all.

Too many of us have become too career-conscious and too submerged in commercialism to take time to think of our fellow man. We need not make him a present of a large sum of money, but the sacrifice of a disarming smile or a gleeful "good-morning" would mean much.

If we look back on the last Easter we experienced, few of us can say we thought of the old folks down the street, or the small boy whose leg was broken while riding in his wagon. No. Instead, we placed all the emphasis on the commercial aspects of Easter: the new suit or petite Easter bonnet so beautifully displayed stole all of our attention.

Like Christmas, Easter, too, has become the victim of greedy businessmen with the "Easter Bunny" who shadows the main idea set forth by the "carpenters" so many years ago—self-sacrifice.

Everyone knows, to cure a wound, one applies the fastest healing ointment. To cure the disastrous wound of career consciousness along with the third degree burn of commercialization, use only one ointment—the ointment of the original Easter Story. Upon reading and supplying the ointment in the story, it is without one doubt that this Easter just may be the brightest one yet for you and your innerself.

Get Better Grades

This is the last lap of the school year for many of us, and the second semester of a particular classification for others. Make this semester one in which Bowie will experience a boom in grades on the part of all students. You can do it!

First, one must concentrate on his various subject matters. Let no interference hinder this important factor toward your success. Interest is still another, which is not in the classroom as such, but in the individual. We have lots of time to do research. Use time wisely to do just this. Subjects here at Bowie are devoting to teaching students to teach.

Nowhere along the line does a course devote itself entirely to "How To Study" or "How To Learn." This we must work out to suit ourselves. No two people study alike, yet comparing methods is advisable. The journey into learning is a great adventure. It can be successful when one puts forth interest, time effort, concentration and devotion. Reward is inspiring and shows intellect. Just think how intellectual our insitition will be with 80 per cent of her students on the honor roll. R. M. P.

The Coppin Courier, Coppin State Teachers College: "The physical education department is planning a "Splash Party." Tentative plans call for the use of a local pool. No swimming instruction will be given. This sounds like an idea that is not "all wet." Your Courier will keep you posted on further details."

The Snapper, Millersville State College: "New microfilm, valued at approximately $2,000 has been added to the college library collection."

The advantages of microfilm over the bound volumes of periodicals are numerous, a library spokesman said. Microfilm is easier to handle, less expensive to buy and easier to store."

The Central Recorder, Central Connecticut State College: "The annual fall sports banquet, held on December 8th at the Food Center building was highlighted by the presence of Harrison J. (JIM) Kaiser's first football team at the college, were special guests at the affair. A good time was had by all as they reminisced old times and happy experiences. Undoubtedly the happiest man of all was their former coach, Jim Kaiser, who was presented with an autographed football by the old grads."

The Gold Bug, Western Maryland College: "Plans are more complete concerning the new WMC library, and ground is scheduled to be broken for it early next spring. Facilities in the library will include a mezzanine and three floors. From the front, the appearance will be that of a one story building, but by utilizing the slope of a hill, the other floors are possible.

There will be stacks throughout the building with ample reading space for the staff. Also included will be a staff area and a student lounge. Provision will be made for a smoking area."

The Keystone, Kutztown State College: "Kutztown State College is going on the air! Our college will participate in the WGAL-TV, Channel 8, educational series, "College of the Air," from March 22 to May 10."

The Holly Leaf, Salisbury State Teachers College: "Wrestling has now loomed as a potential entry in the Intramural Program of S. T. C. The Library Corner

When the thought of the Thomas G. Pullen, Jr. Library comes to our minds we always remember the show cases. This month as one enters the library, he sees to his left the displays of American Presidents and American Brotherhood Week.

John Fitzgerald Kennedy is the main feature in the Presidents case. Pictures of the new President and Vice-President, their new cabinet, and the inauguration are displayed. Books included in the display are Know Your Presidents' Wives by George E. Ross, Children of the White House by Cavanah and Foster, and Readings For Democrats by Edwards Reed.

Lincoln and Washington are main features in the Brotherhood show case. The Lincoln Nobody Knows by Richard N. Current, and George Washington by Ingri and Edar D'au-laire are books you should not miss. The Civil War display features a spread from the Sunday Washington Star entitled "Convention Tries To Avert Civil War," compiled by John W. Steep. Pictures accompanying the article such as Tyler, Houston, Cobb, and Crittenden, recall old memories of history books.

Our book of the month is entitled Crusader Without Violence by L. D. Reddick. This book concerns our all-time Negro hero, Martin Luther King, Jr. Read the thrilling adventure a Southerner experiences while being educated in the North, which experiences inspire him to return South to work for that evergrowing problem of all time—integration. Follow the crusader as he moves with no violence. This modern weapon known as "passive resistance," has to be operated by strong courageous men of ability. Exchange seats with him; sweat awhile as he marches on without violence. R. M. P.

Antigone To Be Staged

Sophocles' "Antigone" will be presented in "the round" by the class in world literature under the instruction of Hammett Worthington-Smith next month. The exact date is to be announced.

"Antigone" is considered to be one of the best loved and most beautiful of Greek plays which involves strong emotions relative to one's loyalty to one's family; the beginning and end of a ruler's personal desires when he is the chief agent in a democratic society; and a question as to whether some traditions are so divinely orientated that a chief of state is in error to alter.

Casting of the play has not been completed at this publication date. Members of the world literature class are Martha Ballard, Nellie Blake, Pauline Brooks, William Davis, Violet Fisher, Sadie Hall, Rose Ann Hamilton, Larry Johnson, Henrietta Purnell, Eugene O. Prather, Addie Sprinkle, Mildred Stryckning, and Betty Jones.

Demonstration School News

The faculty and pupils of the Demonstration School are watching with great pride and enthusiasm the erection of their new building. They are anticipating occupying it when school opens in September of this year.

Miss Sarah Turner with Mrs. Coachman, Mr. Melvin Jernigan with Mrs. Craig, Miss Mae Broofs with Miss Blackburn and Mr. Charles Dorsey with Miss Gray, are getting experiences in the techniques of the "what and how" to teach. They have been doing student-teaching in the Demonstration School since the beginning of this semester.

On Thursday March 2, the college students were highly entertained with a rather unique and impressive musical program in the McKeldin Gymnasium, by a group of third and fourth grade pupils, under the direction of their teacher, Miss Blackburn and the college music teacher, Mr. Bessicks.

Inspector Dick Mansfield, school safety program director, sponsored by the Evening Star newspaper, was the guest of the Demonstration School on Monday, March 13. His keen sense of humor, his illustrative drawings, his safety talks and songs have, through the years, helped to make an indelible impression upon the hearts of the boys and girls of this community. For the 17th consecutive year the school was awarded the Annual Safety Certificate.

If you pass through the halls of the Demonstration School from March until May, you may get the feeling that you are in Sunny Spain, picking tulips in Holland, shopping in Gay Paree, awaking from a siesta in Mexico, or celebrating May Day at Bowie.

Dr. Fitzjohn Speaks

The Rev. Dr. William Henry Fitzjohn of Sierra Leone, Africa, spoke to the college community March 28, in the McKeldin Gymnasium, about his country. He was invited by the P.T.A. of our Demonstration School.

At present Dr. Fitzjohn is Sierra Leone's representative in the Nation's Capital. He is staying at 523 Dupont Circle Building in Washington.

The degrees and certificates held by Dr. Fitzjohn include his diploma and Sierra Leone teacher's certificate from the Albert Academy in Freetown, his B.A. degree from Lincoln University, his B.D. degree from the United Theological Seminary in Dayton, Ohio, and his M.A. and Ph. D. degrees from Teachers College, Columbia University. He was ordained in to the ministry of the Evangelical United Brethren Church in Dayton, Ohio.

Among the many positions held by Dr. Fitzjohn are elementary school teacher, principal, lecturer, member of House of Representatives, and associate minister at King Memorial, Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Dr. Fitzjohn is married to Muriel Alice Cole, and they are parents of five lovely children.

Bowie was indeed privileged to have this honorable visitor on its campus, thanks to the active P.T.A. of the Demonstration School.

Soldiers Chorus with U.S. Army Band

"Great Hymns" Choir Sings

The vesper service on January 22, featured Baltimore's "Great Hymns" Choir under the direction of its founder, the Rev. Daniel Lyman Ridout, administrative secretary of the Baltimore area of the Methodist Church. Audrey Cyrus was the sympathetic accompanist.

The simple, fervent and skillful interpretation of hymns, without a doubt, enabled the listeners "to appreciate more fully the importance of the hymn in Christian worship," a stated aim of the organization.

The membership of the choir represents eight Protestant denominations and includes two of the Roman Catholic faith. Eight are teachers of music in Baltimore, Washington, and vicinity, and several are presently students in conservatories and music majors in college. Three have been members of the famed Fisk University Singers, two members of the Oberlin Conservatory in Ohio, and two, members of our own Bowie Glee Club. Both of these, Leicester Grace and Gloria Robinson, '51, were soloists.

The program follows:

U.S. Army Field Band Returns

The United States Army Field Band of Washington, D.C. again won plaudits from a responsive audience for a highly successful appearance here on February 9. Their sparkling performance last year brought persistent requests for this return engagement.

Under the skilled direction of Major Robert L. Bierly, commanding officer, the program offerings ranged from classical arrangements of the world's great music to popular tunes.

Especially liked were: The Army Goes Rolling Along, Second Symphony For Band, Begin the Beguine and the marches of John Philip Sousa.

The high order of musicianship displayed explains why the band travels thousands of miles each year as the representative band of the Department of the Army. The aggregation has become internationally famous as "The Kings of the Highway," title of the Band's theme song.

Eugene W. Coughlin directed the thirty-voice Soldier's chorus in appealing renditions of Viva L'Amour, The Winter Song and Vincent Youman's popular Great Day. The moving One Little Candle with Dick Mueller as soloist, was easily the favorite of the audience.

The Bachelors, a novelty vocal quartet, were spotlighted in their own special arrangements of such popular songs as Till There Was You. Dick Mueller was the "ringleader" of this group. Rich Hansen doubled on the guitar, Bill Snyder provided the comedy, and Bob Hill rounded out the foursome.

Other highlights were individual instrumental specialties. The drummer was sensational.

Paul Henry, narrator, gave his usual graphic capsule description of unusual background data concerning each number on the program.

Veterans Club's Soiree Culminates Homecoming

A candlelight soiree sponsored by the Veterans club culminated the Homecoming weekend celebration.

In a unique candlelight setting with natural decorations and chairs arranged in circles of five, the Veterans Club staged its soiree in the McKeldin auditorium. Adding to the setting's uniqueness was selected semi-classical and popular music playing continuously.

Russian tea was the featured speciality of the buffet table laden with chicken salad, assorted crackers, potato chips, and assorted mints.

Rebecca Smith, Queen for the Veterans Club, served as hostess. Preston Waters, the club's president, was host.

Officers of the Veterans Club are Preston Waters, president; William Blake, vice president; Oliver Eugene Prather, secretary; Clarence Messick, treasurer; and Hammett Worthington-Smith, advisor.

Mr. Rowe Wins Prize

In a recent exhibit sponsored by the Rolling Art League of Baltimore, a painting by Bowie's art instructor, Mr. William Rowe, entitled The Ascent was awarded second prize.

The Medley

The college glee club and band presented "A Musical Assembly" on March 16.

The prelude to the enjoyable program, played by the Brass Quartet, included selections from Brahms, Weber and Bach.

Solo numbers from the band were: Ave Maria, horn solo by James Quarles; The Carnival of Venice, trumpet solo by Gilbert Wright; Hatikvah (The Hope), Hebrew national anthem) baritone horn solo by William Batson.

The spirit of the Trumpet Voluntary as arranged by Henry Purcell, was captured by the Brass Ensemble. This group also played Tchaikovsky's Chanson Triste.

The glee club continues to please with its beautiful singing.

The Women's Ensemble offered Blue Star, while the Men's Ensemble sang Somebody Loves Me. The combined groups interpreted creditably Sigmund Romberg's Serenade; the Irish folk song, Londonderry Air; and Edward Elgar's Land of Hope and Glory.

Audrey Goldsborough delighted all with her rendition of Sigmund Marwell's Ebb Tide.

The glee club and band will soon begin traveling over the State. Bowie is proud of her musical organizations and of those students who sacrifice their time to help make the organizations succeed. The organizations, in turn are grateful to Mr. Bessicks, director of the band and to Mr. Griggsby, director of the glee club, for their unfailing patience and sympathetic direction.

Art Club In Program

"Art in the Elementary School" was the theme of the program presented by the Art Club at the February 23, assembly under the direction of Mr. William Rowe.

Audrey Tutt, president of the organization, acted as mistress of ceremonies.

Participants and topics discussed were: Olga Powell — The Role Defined; Doris Thomas — The Arts Curriculum; and Shirley Dutton — The Arts As Therapy.

BULLS PLACE IN ALL-STATE SELECTION

Beaver's Column

By BUCKY BEAVER,
Sports Editor

No matter where you go or what you do, people will talk about you. Some things said about you are good and some are bad. During the past season, numerous compliments were paid to our Bulls. These are some of the compliments made about our Bulls by opposing players, coaches, fans, and referees:

Cheyeny's Coach—"There isn't a better shooting college team."

Coppin Fan—"After the Bulls had run Coppin up and down the floor, 'Here come those five horses from Bowie. Those guys can run all night and never tire.'"

Textile's Coach—"I have never seen a team shoot like that in the first half."

Lincoln Fan—"Those guys can really shoot."

Referee—"With more height, you guys would be un-touchable."

Southeastern Coach—"With boys from your squad and mine, Maryland University would n't stand a chance."

No matter where we traveled, someone always had something good to say. When hearing this kind of talk, one feels glad to be a part.

West Upsets East In All-Star Game

By Bucky Beaver

Bucky Beaver's Western Shore Panthers pulled a stunning upset over Preston Waters Eastern Shore Tigers in Bowie's Annual East-West series. The Westerners won the series two games to one. Through the years the Easterners have dominated this series, but this year the home boys were not to be denied.

In the first game Coach Waters' rugged shooting team could not get rolling as Larry Johnson and Jackie Smith were hitting the nets consistently for the Beaver boys. This game also saw some outstanding rebounding by Sidney Dorsey and Donald Dyson.

In the second game the tables were turned. Buck Miller almost single handedly beat the west squad by hitting on long half court set shots.

When the third game rolled around, excitement on campus was very high. The gym was practically filled to capacity. Both teams were up for this one.

The game started with a flourish with both teams scoring basket for basket. About midway during the final half the western shore boys began pulling away. There was buzzing in the stands as the fans of both squads sensed an upset in the making. Neal scored, Smith scored, Dyson scored, Brown scored, and Hoes scored. These scores did not come in succession, but for the Eastern Shore, "Katie had barred the door."

Dick Milbourne To Turn Pro

By BUCKY BEAVER

Richard Milbourne, who for four years has been pouring in points for Bowie, hopes to be pouring them in as a professional next year. How did this come about?

Dick received an offer to try out with the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association and one from the new Chicago entry in the same league. He'll also get a tryout with the Baltimore Bullets of the Eastern League. With his good shooting eye, it is almost a cinch that he will make one of the teams.

When asked about his chances, Dick stated, "I think that I would have a better chance to make the Bullets than the other two. I base this belief on the fact that I have played with and against some of the boys of the Eastern League. The N.B.A. teams require more out of a player. The main factor is the impression that you make on a coach."

Dick seems to be a bit modest about his chances. One thing for sure, Dick will give it all he has, no matter for whom he plays.

Bowie Girls Have Losing Season

By Bucky Beaver

The girls' basketball team suffered through a dismal 2-4 season. This is not as bad as one might expect, due to the fact that this year was chiefly a rebuilding year. Since most of the girls had not played together before, Coach Blanche Vessels couldn't get her team working into a smooth machine.

The entire starting lineup of forwards were new members. As the season progressed the team began finding the right combination. Even in defeat the girls never stopped hustling, a trade mark of all Bowie's teams.

The high scores were Teresa Jones and Evelyn Jarrett. They were assisted by Alberta Grey, Nilah Cain, Ella Johnson and Doretha Wallace. The Defense Corps were led by Joanne Clayton, Nellie Barbour, Charlotte Jeffers, Sonja Anderson, Delphenia Thomas, and Marie Elsey. The managers were Hilda Lee, Elizabeth Lee, Da Wona Grey, Catherine Kennedy, Ella Hebbs, Barbara De Lauder, Betty Cromwell, and Phylis Strawther. Vance Bolden and McKinley Haywood also assisted Mrs. Vessels in Coaching the team.

If hard work pays off, the girls should have a successful season next year.

Mr. Rowe Exhibits Work

Mr. Rowe is one of the six Baltimore Realist sponsoring an exhibition of paintings at 817 North Charles Street.

Through April 22, the exhibition will be open daily, except Monday, 11 to 5:30 P.M., Thursday evenings 'til 9:30 P.M. and on Sundays, 1 to 5 P.M.

In addition to Mr. Rowe, the other sponsors are Messers Hofmann, Bannon, Redelius, Keehn and Sheppard.

The physical education teacher, Mrs. Blanche Vessels, is the director of the organization. Each of the activities has a student director.

College Bowl At Bowie

The Senior Class sponsored a College Bowl on a Chapel program March 23, patterned after the General Electric College Bowl seen on television.

The Bowl consisted of two teams that competed for monetary prizes. Two members from each class were selected to serve as team members. Representing the freshman class were Albert Poole of Team A, and Mable Peay of Team B. Sophomore representatives were Octavia Blake, Team A, and Leatha Hull, Team B. Representing the junior class were Gwendolyn Procter, Team B, and William Batson, Team A. Representatives from the senior class were Wilhelmina Mason, Team A, and James Mapp, Team B. These students are top scholars of their classes.

The questions asked were submitted by the faculty of the college, and they were indeed challenging to the College Bowl and to the audience. Nevertheless, Hoes, and Orle Ried acted as The winning team was Team B.

THREE GET HONORABLE MENTION

Three members of Bowie's keen basketball team received honorable mention in the All-State selections made by Maryland coaches.

Richard (Dick) Milbourne and Fred Neal were second and third choices respectively, while Alfreddy Perry was number eleven in the listing.

This marks the third time that Perry and Milbourne have achieved honorable mention. When it is remembered that the All-State rating has been in effect only six years; that Bowie has been playing recognized basketball for only four years; and that no selections were made in 1959-60, there is ample justification for the pride Bowietes are experiencing.

Congratulations, fellows!

Bulls Have Winning Season

By BUCKY BEAVER,

After a disastrous start, six losses to be exact, the Bulls came on fast to close out with a winning season.

With two of the players doing practice teaching and not having ample time to practice with the rest of the squad, the Bulls could not find a winning combination. After those losses the team members were down in the dumps. The only cure would be a victory.

This happened on the night of January 5, as the Bulls journeyed to D.C. to battle the District Teachers. For this game the Bulls junked the zone defense and switched to a man to man defense. When Milbourne and Neal fouled out, any chance for a victory seemed lost. Off the bench came Jackie Smith and Charlie Thomas and along with Perry, Robbins, Messicks and Cash, sparked the Bulls to their first victory of the season.

The Bulls' next time out defeated Coppin, lost to Cheyney, defeated Philadelphia Pharmacy and lost to Lycoming. About this time the team was reaching its peak.

After the loss to Lycoming, it was "Katie Bar the Door" for the opposition. It was here that the Bulls put together an eight game winning streak.

They defeated Gallaudet, Eastern Baptist, Lock Haven State, Coppin (twice), Montclair and Rutgers. After the game loss to Textile in the tournament, the Bulls defeated Lincoln University, Frostburg, and closed out the season with losses to Cheyney and Southeastern. The season's record: 12 wins and 11 losses.

Extensive Building Program Planned

The college is still in the process of improving the campus and its buildings. This is a rewarding experience for those who have been striving so hard to make this institution grow, so that it will be more wholesome place in which to live and learn; and in so doing cultivate the mind in an atmosphere that is conducive to good habits.

Money has been appropriated and approved for the renovation of the Administration Building.

To meet present needs, the following are anticipated for the near future to meet the needs of the student: Science Building, Dining Room and Student Union Building combined.

Textile Wins Tourney

By BUCKY BEAVER

Philadelphia Textile Institute defeated the Bowie Bulls 87-78 for the championship in Bowie's third Annual Invitational Tournament.

Bowie advanced to the finals by beating Coppin State, and Textile by defeating D.C. Teachers. The Bulls led most of the way, but Textile, using a full court press, managed to close the gap with the game quickly drawing to a close. With Junius Johnson scoring under the basket and the Bulls fouling excessively, Textile pulled away, and when the final buzzer sounded, had a nine point lead.

In the Bulls win over Coppin, the combination of a fast break and some explosive scoring, spelled disaster for the Baltimore five.

Dan Miller of Textile won the most valuable player award. In the first round games, Coppin defeated Gallaudet of Washington and Textile defeated Southeastern University, also of Washington. McKinley Haywood accepted the runner-up award for Bowie.
